

Laurelie Wallace is an experienced Office Manager and educator based in the Washington, DC area. Currently serving as Office Manager at the Center for Internet Security, she oversees operations for the CIS DC office and provides critical scheduling and logistical support. Laurelie plays an active role in high-level initiatives, including Thought Leadership, Volunteerism, and Hill Engagement, and collaborates on the biannual CIS DC Report. In her previous work experience, she has taught both high school and college, worked on Capitol Hill and for several organizations in the non-profit sector.